

CELEBRATE YOUR UNIQUE TALENTS DAY

Every child is capable of having a unique talent. Some children are born with natural abilities while others build their abilities in order to develop their talents.

4 WAYS YOU CAN HELP YOUR CHILD DISCOVER AND DEVELOP NEW TALENTS.

1. BE OPEN AND ACCEPTING.

Allow your child to explore activities that interest them as it will open them up to new experiences.

2. ENCOURAGE YOUR CHILD TO FOLLOW THEIR DREAMS.

If your child knows that they have your full support, they will be more willing to step outside of their comfort zone. Let them know that mistakes are okay and failing is part of the process.

3. LET YOUR CHILD TAKE THE LEAD.

You can be by their side through the entire process by coaching, supporting and guiding them. However, letting them take the lead will allow them to become more confident and grow.

4. LISTEN TO YOUR CHILD.

If your child is no longer interested in an activity, they will make it known through their actions and words. If it is because they feel they are not progressing fast enough, explain how improving skills can take time and help your child develop grit. The goal is progress and not perfection.

It may take a few tries before your child finds an activity that they want to stick to. So, be patient and encourage them on their journey.
